FLASH BLAZE
AT LA SALLE
HOTEL SIFTEDONLY TWO BODIES
UNIDENTIFIED
IN 59 DEAD

Chicago, June 6 (AP)—Investigators seeking to establish the source of a flash fire which killed 59 persons in the La Salle hotel early yesterday were told today the flames raced through the lobby like a "streak of lightning" preventing employees from fighting the blaze with fire extinguishers.

The informal testimony was given by Emil Lavigne, a freight elevator operator, as the grim job of identifying the dead neared completion. Only two bodies remained unidentified—a woman and another victim of undetermined sex.

Another elevator operator, Eddie Kowalske, testified he first discovered the fire at 12:14 a. m. The fire department reported the day of the fire that it received the first call from the hotel at 12:35 a. m.

Flames Envelop Lobby

The inquiry of hotel employees and patrons was conducted by Harry Eckhardt, assistant corporation counsel acting as fire attorney.

Lavigne said he had been sent to the basement to obtain fire extinguishers when the first alarm was spread, but that the lobby was almost enveloped in flame when he returned a short while later.

"The flame spread like a streak of lightning," he said. "The wood didn't seem to be burning, just the varnish on top."

The inquiry brought an immediate clash of opinion between Kowalske and a management representative as to one reported source of the blaze.

Kowalske, who was among the first to spread the alarm of the fire, said he first discovered flames in a space behind a dummy elevator door and a wall of the hotel cocktail lounge.

"I looked through a crack between the car and the door of the shaft," he said, "and saw a small blaze on the floor there in the space behind the dummy elevator doors, at the base of the wall of the cocktail lounge. It was spreading through some small papers, like gum wrappers."

"My God, I never saw anything like it. I mean the way the flame shot out from the dummy door and then spread. It looked as if it (sic) was covered with gasoline. I saw somebody come up with fire extinguishers but whoever it was ran toward the elevators, then stopped, set down the extinguishers and ran away."

Rebuilding Plans Ready

Kowalske, an employee of the hotel for three weeks, said there was a space behind the dummy doors large enough to accommodate another elevator but Joseph T. Scott, attorney representing the hotel, claimed the cocktail lounge extends to the dummy doors, leaving no space there.

Various other investigations of the fire have been ordered. The coroner's inquest will open tomorrow.

The hotel management, in a statement yesterday, said the fire department was notified three minutes after the fire was discovered.

Bill To Streamline
Lawmaking Held Up;
It's Election Year

Washington, June 6 (AP)—A triple threat—pride, patronage and politics—jeopardized today Senate passage of a bulky bill to overhaul the nation's lawmaking machinery.

The question of pride centered upon proposed reduction of Senate committees and consequent elimination of a number of highly-prized chairmanships.

That of patronage was raised over the provision that a personal director—rather than committee chairmen—would control appointments to well-paying jobs as legislative experts.

And in this election year, the political angle stemmed from the fear that proposed increased benefits for congressmen would be used as campaign ammunition by their opponents.

Product of a year-long study by a joint congressional committee, the measure would:

1. Limit the number of Senate committees to 16. There are now 33 standing and ten special committees, an average of six seats for each member.

2. Provide the committees with a staff of four experts each.

3. Give each member an administrative assistant to handle constituents' requests.

4. Tighten fiscal control by providing for adoption of annual federal budget controls by joint action of the revenue and appropriating committees of both houses.

5. Eliminate some of Congress' routine chores such as acting on each separate bill to build a bridge or pay a damage claim against the government.

6. Boost the pay of members of Congress from $10,000 to $15,000 a year.

7. Permit pensions for members of Congress by authorizing them to contribute to the Federal Retirement System and to share in its benefits.

STRIKE CONTROL
BILL ANALYZEDTruman Still Favors His Own Emergency Labor
Union Measure

Washington, June 6 (AP)—President Truman withheld decision today on the case union control bill and put in another plug for his own emergency strike measure.

The president told his news conference that reports he had decided to veto the Case bill are not true—that he is still analyzing it.

He said further that he still favors his own emergency measure. Responding to a question, he said he favors it in the form in which the house passed it two hours after he vetoed it to the joint session of congress. In that version the bill includes a provision knocking out in the senate, for drafting workers who strike against government-seized industries.

Shortly after Mr. Truman had restated his position, house leaders said they had decided to postpone, probably until next week, further action on the president's plan. They had proposed earlier to pass to the rules committee the task of figuring out a procedure for dealing with varying senate and house versions.

When it does come up a motion will be made to send the measure to a senate-house conference to work out an agreement. One objection to that procedure would automatically refer the issue to the rules group, and such an objection is fully expected.

Helicopter Landed
Safely, Engine Dead

Dayton, O., June 6 (AP)—An Army Air Forces helicopter, its engine dead, dropped from 9,000 feet without damage to the craft or injury to its pilot today.

Auto-rotation—free-wheeling of the helicopter's rotor blades—allowed the pilot, Capt. Irvin C. Steiner of Wright Field, to land his helicopter safely in a cow pasture at nearby New Germany.

Capt. Steiner said rough air buffeted the helicopter so that a carburetor float became clogged.

Since a helicopter has no wing, rotor free-wheeling is the only means of bringing it to a safe dead-stick landing.

Washington, June 6 (AP)—President Truman declined to comment today on requests for his withdrawal of Myron Taylor as special ambassador to the Vatican. He would not discuss a request made to him yesterday by a group of Protestant church leaders.

Army Volunteer Pool
Drying Up; Eisenhower
Urges Draft Extension

Washington, June 6 (AP)—With the final form of the draft extension highly uncertain, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said tonight that "the pool of potential volunteers is drying up" and "selective service must supplement enlistments."

"For this purpose 18 months of service is a fair contribution to ask of any young man," the chief of staff declared. "The security of our country and the continuing peace of our world are worth it. It is far less than we asked of the soldiers who fought to make possible a peaceful world."

Eisenhower prepared his remarks for an NBC broadcast commemorating the second anniversary of the landings in Normandy which he commanded as supreme Allied commander.

Meanwhile a final congressional decision on the future of the draft awaited conferences between the senate and house to adjust their differences over the length and terms of the extension.

One of the chief issues is whether teen-agers should be drafted again after the present stop-gap extension expires July 1. The measure passed by the senate yesterday would permit 18 and 19-year-olds to be called, but the house previously had disapproved. A compromise by which 18-year-olds would be exempted but 19-year-olds would be taken was discussed.

Eisenhower paid tribute to "the American fighting man" and said that "the job he began and carried through to its combat conclusion is not yet complete."

"Only firm and just peace throughout the world can bring an end to our endeavor," he continued. "Victory won in blood and sacrifice demands of us effort and sacrifice to establish peace."

He added that the task of enforcing the surrender terms on the enemy has been assigned to the army and "only adequate manpower can make it an effective performance."

Hubbell Man Kills
Wife And Self As 5 Children Look On

Superior, Wis., June 6 (AP)—Police said today that William Helback, 40, Hubbell, Mich., shot his wife to death then committed suicide in a car near here as his five small stepchildren looked on today.

This was the account given by Dist. Atty. Andy Borg who said the family had come from Michigan Wednesday and Helback intended to look for work in Superior.

The children said their parents had been quarreling throughout the night, according to Borg. The district attorney said Mrs. Helback was shot as she sat alongside her husband in the front seat of the parked automobile. The children were in the back seat.

The House of Hesse complained to American authorities that the jewels, stored for two years in the basement floor of Kronberg castle, had vanished. The castle is about 15 miles from Frankfurt.

An investigation showed that a container was taken from the basement floor last Nov. 6, seven months after the castle had been requisitioned as a recreation center for American officers, the provost marshal's office said.

"All facts ascertained here have been reported to the war department and it is presumed that further investigation is being continued in the United States."

(In Washington, the war department said no details would be released until the inquiry was complete.)

BATTLE AHEAD
IN SENATE ON
OPA CONTROLSENATE BILL LIFTS
DAIRY AND MEAT
CEILINGS

Washington, June 6 (AP)—Price Administrator Paul Porter asserted tonight that "effective price and rent control will end" if the senate banking committee's OPA extension bill becomes law.

His statement attacking the measure served to underscore the comment of Senator Taft (R-Ohio) that a major battle may be expected when the senate takes it up next week, especially over a provision lifting meat and dairy price controls at the end of this month.

Though they are on opposite sides of the issue, Porter in his formal statement, and Taft in talking to reporters laid their emphasis on the same points—the meat and dairy price ceilings question and the regulations on profit margin allowances.

Taft, who supported in committee the lifting of the meat and dairy ceilings, said he expected the big quarrel over that point. He added that sharp debate is likely on a committee-approved rule forbidding OPA to force cost abatement upon dealers in "conversion" items such as automobiles, refrigerators, and radios.

He said also that he will try to write in on the floor his own amendment to require that manufacturers be allowed their 1941 prices plus the industry's average increase in costs since then. He lost on a tie vote when he tried to put the provision into the bill in committee.

Consumer Will Pay
Porter in his statement asserted his belief that if the measure passes as it now stands, meat will rise 40 to 50 percent in price and the cost of butter, milk, cream and cheese will soar.

"In the case of durable goods such as automobiles, washing machines, other household electrical appliances, and farm implements, prices will be raised by hundreds of millions of dollars."

At another point he said the rise would be more than half a billion.

He added that rent controls "could not long remain with other prices uncontrolled."

He added: "The net result of these amendments would be that the city worker and everybody else pays more for his clothing, tools and the electrical equipment he's been saving his money for. We couldn't meet our commitments to feed famine-stricken allies."

The banking committee, which voted on the last disputed provision of the bill yesterday, dotted a few i's in it today and sent it on to the senate without a record vote.

SPANISH ISSUE
DEBATED IN U NFranco Regime Branded Potential Threat To World Peace

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
New York, June 6 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council yielded to a request by the United States and Great Britain today for postponement of full-dress debate on a proposal for a complete United Nations diplomatic break with Generalissimo Franco's Spain by next September.

Both Herschel V. Johnson, sitting for the first time as the United States delegate, and Sir Alexander Cadogan of Great Britain, said their governments had not had time to decide their position on the Spanish issue. They requested that the discussion be put off.

Council President Alexandre Parodi of France, announced adjournment until next Tuesday.

The question before the council was a formal proposal by Dr. Herbert V. Evans, Australian delegate and chairman of the council sub-committee which investigated Spain, to approve the recommendations his group had reached after a month-long study.

"The sub-committee decided that the Franco regime is a 'potential' threat to world peace and should be isolated unless Franco is ousted by September."

The group suggested that the Security Council convene to the general assembly, which meets here in September, a recommendation that every member of the United Nations break off relations with Franco if he still is in power by that time.

Vinson Of Treasury
Named Chief Justice

Washington, June 6 (AP)—Fred M. Vinson of Kentucky, former congressman, judge and reconversion director and now secretary of the treasury, was nominated by President Truman today to be Chief Justice of the United States.

In an action-packed news conference, Mr. Truman also announced two other nominations to high posts:

1. To be secretary of the treasury, John W. Snyder, now director of war mobilization and reconversion.

2. To be undersecretary of the Navy, John L. Sullivan, now assistant secretary of the Navy.

He made his decision on Vinson only an hour and half earlier, he said, and his sudden disclosure of all three nominations at once startled the Capital, which had been speculating over the posts for weeks.

The office of war mobilization and reconversion, which Snyder now heads, will come to an end, the President said, indicating that no successor will be named. In reply to a question, Mr. Truman added that most of the reconversion problems it was set up to handle are over.

Mindful of reported conflicting views in the past between Snyder and Chester Bowles, former price administrator and now stabilization director, reporters also asked whether Bowles now becomes the top man in the stabilization setup. Mr. Truman replied that Bowles will continue in his present job as it is now functioning.

Snyder, a former St. Louis banker, has been one of the President's closest advisers on economic, labor and other matters. His appointment as secretary of the treasury now will give him a seat in the cabinet.

Vinson, known as "Judge" to his intimates, was named secretary of the treasury.

Swamp, Elders Say

Miami, Fla., June 6 (AP)—Federal state and county investigations into the fate of a 17-year-old Seminole maid, accused of having an illicit romance with a White man, ended today when the Indians sent a spokesman into Miami to explain the case.

The Indian spokesman told Deputy Sheriff Fulford that the girl was "much alive" and denied reports she had been condemned to death by a council of elders at the Seminoles' mystic annual "Green Corn Dance."

The emissary said the only punishment meted out to her was that she would be denied the right to attend the secret dance rites.

Holmes Low Bidder
On Spillway Paving
Government Project

Pittsburgh, June 6 (AP)—The U. S. army engineers office today disclosed that Herman Holmes, of Crystal Falls, Michigan, submitted a low bid of $910,381.25 for construction of a concrete spillway lining on the Youghiogheny dam, Somerset county.

The government estimate for the job—without profit to the contractor—was $845,759.50. Other bidders and their bids were: D. B. Mullett, of Pittsburgh, $1,960,037.35; George M. Brewster and Edward O'Neill of Bogota, N. J., $1,229,047.50 and E. H. Albrecht and sons of Chicago, $1,278,460. The bids will be sent to Columbus, O., for approval by the division engineer.

UMBERTO URGES
UNITY IN ITALYSecession Talk Heard
As Deposed Monarch
Starts For Exile

BY JOHN P. MCKNIGHT
Rome, June 6 (AP)—King Umberto II tonight was drafting a farewell message expected to urge unity for the new Italian Republic, already confronted with mutterings of secession in the south, before joining his queen en route to exile in Portugal.

The royal household announced officially that Queen Marie Jose and her four children were, on their way to Portugal aboard the Italian cruiser Duca degli Abruzzi, and Umberto was expected to follow after giving a final message to the nation. His family ruled Italy for 75 years and his reign lasted just under a month.

Talk of secession came from the south of Italy, which saw its overwhelming monarchial vote in the plebiscite go for naught in the face of the north's heavy vote for the Republic. There was open discussion in Naples, Royalist stronghold, about breaking with the north.

The urgency of the pleas for union emphasized the danger that the old division between the industrial north and the agricultural south, born of economic and cultural imbalance, might be sharpened by the referendum split.

Moose Lake, Minn.,
Swept By Tornado;
Highways Blocked

Minneapolis, June 6 (AP)—A tornado swept through the village of Moose Lake, Minn., shortly before 7 p. m. today and the telephone operator there said that a score of buildings had been demolished.

The operator said, however, there were no reports of casualties but that a check of the surrounding rural areas was still in progress.

The operator said the storm wreckage had blocked the Twin Cities-Duluth highway through the village.

Communication between the Twin Cities and Moose Lake had been interrupted for more than three hours before the operator made her report.

Moose Lake has a population of about 500 and is located 120 miles from the Twin Cities.

Pere Marquette
Outlaws Tipping
By Diner Patrons

Detroit, June 6 (AP)—As an "experiment aimed at the tyranny of custom," tips will be outlawed on dining cars of all Pere Marquette trains beginning Monday, according to an announcement today by R. J. Bowman, president of the road.

The ban will extend to the new streamliners to be commissioned this summer of the Detroit-Lansing-Grand Rapids run, Bowman said.

"The management has received assurances of cooperation from the employees. An arrangement which is satisfactory to the service and kitchen personnel compensates these employees, in part at least, for the loss of tips," declared Bowman.

"A start has to be made sometime and somewhere, to abate the increasing inroads on the pocketbook of the average traveler, who is often deterred from riding on trains because of 'extras' in the form of tips for various services that should be performed as a matter of course."

SAILORS SET FOR WALKOUT
'RIGHT AWAY'RIVAL UNION LOOKS FOR ATTENTION IN SHIPPING TIEUP

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Washington, June 6 (AP)—AFL seamen stalked from ships by the thousands today and threatened to beat CIO Maritime Unions to the punch on a general shipping strike.

Two officials of AFL Sailors Unions said in New York a full-scale strike of 62,000 members seemed certain, perhaps "right away," perhaps within a week.

Just how that might be accomplished under the Smith-Connally labor act and its requirement for a 30-day notice of a strike was not clear. In the meantime, the AFL seamen straggled back up the gangplanks after holding meetings in the major salt water ports.

Operators Too Busy

The government already is struggling, in negotiations with union officials and ship operators, to head off a nation-wide CIO Maritime strike set for June 15. Some labor experts said privately that the AFL now seems bent on seizing some of the attention the CIO strike threat has commanded.

Members of the AFL Seafarers International Union and its affiliated Sailors Union of the Pacific quit work simultaneously today in 30-odd of the nation's chief maritime cities.

In New York, 5,000 of them met for three hours and unanimously authorized a strike vote. At a subsequent news conference a declaration that a strike of 62,000 members appeared certain came from John Hawk, international vice president of the Seafarers Union and Jack Dwyer, port agent of the Sailors Union of the Pacific.

Dwyer said ship operators, dejected to follow after giving a final message to the nation. His family ruled Italy for 75 years and his reign lasted just under a month.

Work Stoppages Voted
The union chiefs said the meeting voted to treat navy or coast guard personnel as strike breakers if they try to run union ships in case of a strike—as promised by President Truman.

Later, the 5,000 who attended the caucus were ordered back to work.

In San Francisco, union leaders said AFL sailors were "hot for a strike." Harry Lundberg, head of both the Seafarers and SUT, said 2,000 to 2,500 seamen voted that they would not be bound by any decisions made by "the three-ring political circus now taking place in Washington."

There and in Seattle additional "stop-work" meetings were set for tomorrow. The Seattle session today wrote an ultimatum declaring AFL seamen would refuse to sail until definite arrangements were made within a week for wage conferences with operators.

Meetings at Tampa, New Orleans and other southern ports adopted similar resolutions, calling chiefly for work stoppages as often as necessary to "force settlement of our demands."

These demands were reported in New York to center on a 30 percent boost in pay now running from $145 to $160 a month, higher overtime pay, a six-hour day for sea duty and changes in working rules.

In Washington, meantime, the

PROVO SIGN SHOP ROBBED

Thieves Get $53 Cash;
Attempt Burglary
At Firestone

Thieves who broke into the Provo Sign Service, 611 Ludington street, early Thursday morning, took $53.74 and left a number of checks. The burglary was discovered by a patrolling officer about 5:40 o'clock yesterday morning.

Another in a series of attempted robberies here recently was also reported Thursday. Thieves had broken a rear window in the Firestone store, 913 Ludington, sometime Wednesday night but apparently were frightened away before they could enter the place.

Entry to the Provo shop was made by removing the wooden strips around a small pane of glass in a rear door and releasing a lock from the inside.

Police found several fingerprints at both the Firestone and Provo stores.

Five robberies here last week were cleared up by the confession of two 12-year-old boys. Three attempted robberies in the northwest side of the city also last week remain unsolved.

Eskimos Are Good In Rearing Children

Washington—Eskimos do a better job of bringing up their children than most Americans, according to Dr. Margaret Lantis, an anthropologist who was recently awarded a fellowship by the Arctic Institute, Montreal, Canada.

Dr. Lantis, who spent a year with the isolated Eskimos of Nunavut Island, off the coast of Alaska 400 miles north of the Aleutians, reports that the Eskimos give a great deal of affection to their children.

"Physical punishment in their education is almost completely unknown, and as a result, the average individual among them is better adjusted and more balanced than among us," Dr. Lantis declared.

Although the material civilization of these people is still primitive, the Eskimos are often more subtle and understanding in their relationships than we are, she said.

Dr. Lantis hopes to return to Nunavut Island this summer to continue her studies on the grant awarded her.

Western Michigan Resorts Boast Of Plenty Good Chow

Grand Rapids, June 6 (AP)—If you want to be sure of good chow on your vacation, come to western Michigan.

Despite reported food shortages elsewhere, Edward Drier, publicity director of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, said resorts hereabouts have well stocked larders.

He said resort owners have been storing up meat, butter and other scarce food items in home freezers to make sure summer visitors will eat well. Vacationists of other years have, he added, helped them procure scarce foods.

Cool weather so far is holding up what is expected to be the biggest vacation turnout in this area, Drier reported.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 6 (AP)—Delegates to Rotary's 37th annual convention today elected Harold F. Lindsay of Escanaba, Mich., as governor of District 143, Rotary.

Richard C. Hedke of Detroit was named president, while other district governors included: Arthur F. Frazee, Dowagiac, District 151; the Rev. Clyde H. Wilcox, St. Clair, District 152; Joseph V. Brady, Howell, District 153.

Boss Ike Gets Lost In Pentagon Maze

Washington, June 6 (AP)—The boss got lost today in the Pentagon building.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower volunteered to guide a group of women magazine writers and editors out of the huge five-sided war department headquarters after a luncheon given by Secretary of War Patterson.

Before they left, he said, he would show them his own office. He made four false tries at promising-looking doors. Then he grinned and admitted he was lost.

Reregistration Not Required Until Fall

Lansing, June 6 (AP)—Voters registered under the old book system may vote at the June 18 primary election even if they have not re-registered under the new card system established by the 1945 legislature, Attorney General John R. Dethmers said today.

Dethmers said an amendment to the act was adopted at the 1946 special legislative session providing that the re-registration need not be completed until 20 days before the November election. The 1945 act required the re-registration 20 days before the primaries.

Raise In Steam Rates Approved By Council; Appropriations OK'd

The city council raised the steam rates and the city manager's salary, appropriated money for improvements to some city owned industrial property and for the Office of Veterans Affairs, sold several lots, approved a new lease with the Solar Manufacturing company and disposed of a number of routine matters in an active session last night.

A change in the zoning ordinance was also recommended and the council also approved an expenditure of $200 for Fourth of July fireworks.

As a result of action last night on the municipal steam rates, the smallest users of the utility will pay an estimated six per cent increase in cost and the largest up to 16 per cent. In the future, users of the utility will have to keep their own individual systems in good shape too, as they will be assessed for losses of steam caused by defective radiators or other equipment.

The new contract concerning the city-owned Solar Manufacturing building calls for the payment of a monthly rental of $100 with no future reduction in that figure regardless of increases in the company's payroll. The plant has been paying $150 but the tentative original lease called for reduction in the rental to as little as $50 monthly when the company had as high as 100 employees. Willow Run Airport Will Become Alive Again On June 15

Detroit, June 6 (AP)—The war-spawned 1,450 acre Willow Run airport will come alive again June 15 when high speed, four-engine airliners will inaugurate scheduled service, Capital Airlines-PAC announced today.

Meanwhile, the University of Michigan, which acquired the airport from the war assets administration this week, revealed its plans to utilize the property for an aeronautical research program.

Robert M. Averill, regional vice president of Capital Airlines-PAC, said service June 15 will link Detroit with Chicago, Milwaukee, Washington and New York, and added that the schedule may be expanded later.

The University said it will move aeronautical equipment to the field to enable experiments in soil mechanics, airfield maintenance, electrical and mechanical engineering and aeronautical research.

Present buildings will be utilized at the outset, the University said, and new structures will be erected in the near future.

The University plans no flying school, officials said, but may permit outside interests to operate one.

Fitzsimmons Says He's Backing Brown For Governorship

Lansing, June 6 (AP)—Floyd Fitzsimmons, Benton Harbor sports promoter, added a new twist to the Republican party's gubernatorial contest by announcing he would support Lt. Gov. Vernon J. Brown for the nomination for governor.

Brown retorted "The only thing wrong with that is that it's a lie. He's trying to put me in the McCray camp. Well, I won't go."

Fitzsimmons' statement, issued to newsmen, resulted from Brown's recent charge that Raymond J. Kelly, another candidate, was the candidate of Frank D. McKay, Grand Rapids politician, and that Fitzsimmons' support of Kelly was evidence of it.

"Although Mr. Brown never voted for my dog racing bill," Fitzsimmons said, "he never actively opposed it on the floor of the house of representatives and I have always felt that we were friends. I have always worked and helped deliver Berrien county for him whenever he was a candidate for office. I am supporting Mr. Brown as an individual and will vote for him."

Many Autos Unsafe, State Check Shows

Lansing, June 6 (AP)—A two-week traffic safety check showed that more than one out of three cars in 64 cities and 10 counties of the state had "obvious defects," Maxwell Halsey, executive secretary of the State Safety Council, reported today.

Halsey said 2,901 of 8,325 cars which were checked between May 15 and May 26 were being driven in an "unsafe condition."

SAILORS SET FOR WALKOUT 'RIGHT AWAY'

house labor committee stepped into the CIO maritime dispute and ordered a subcommittee to air the issues in open hearings. The hearings start tomorrow. John Carmody, vice chairman of the Federal Maritime Commission, will be the first witness.

Negotiations at the labor department, also intended to head off the June 15 CIO strike, continued during the day. Apparently they made little headway.

Delays Protested

The AFL walkout was related directly to the conferences here involving the CIO unions. It had two apparent purposes:

1. To protest delays in dickering between west coast operators and the AFL unions over wages and hours. These delays have resulted in part from the concentration here on the CIO strike call and efforts to settle first with Atlantic and gulf ship operators.

2. To determine whether the AFL seafarers should support the CIO maritime workers if they go through with the mid-June strike.

Two of the operator spokesmen participating in conferences at the labor department today were the men the AFL seafarers want to deal with—not here but on the west coast.

They are John B. Bryan and Gregory Harrison, president and attorney of the Pacific American Shipowners Association. They talked today with W. H. Buttrick, business manager of the CIO National Maritime Engineers; Hugh Bryson, vice president of the CIO Marine Cooks and Stewards of the Pacific; and Vincent J. Malone, president of the Pacific Coast Maritime Firemen's Association.

Thus far, Bryan and Harrison largely have been looking on from the bleachers. But Secretary of Labor Schweitzer asked them to remain in Washington instead of returning to San Francisco.

The AFL Seafarers Union objected to that as government interference with collective bargaining.

To date, the CIO National Maritime Union has been at the hub of the discussions at the labor department. Its officials talked today with east coast operators who rejected last night the union's last offer of a 44-hour week for men at sea. Sailors now work 56, and the union originally asked for a 40-hour week.

The operators actually are negotiating for the government, since some 80 per cent of the ships they run belong to the War Shipping Administration.

A proposal by George Grenholm, city recreational director, to arrange for several softball games, a program of athletic contests and a fireworks display here July 4, was endorsed by the city fathers who voted $200 for the fireworks.

Council took no action on report considering bids opened about five weeks ago on city property adjacent to the Fence Company of America pending a settlement with several of the individuals involved.

Action was also postponed on a proposal to replat the Buckeye addition (the area approximately one and a half blocks west of 21st street between Fourth and Sixth Avenues north) which was made by the attorney of an owner of property in that district and which involves several legal technicalities.

New Insurance Policy

City Manager Art Aronson asked the council to study a new fire insurance policy covering all city buildings recommended after a recent investigation of present inadequate coverage. The proposed more complete coverage will cost slightly more than half the present $900 spent on fire insurance.

The $600 annual salary increase for the city manager approved some time ago by the council was made retroactive from Jan. 15, 1946. The increase is from $4,500 to $5,100.

As there have been no objections, the assessments for a sanitary sewer in a section of City Center addition No. 3 were approved as submitted.

Another routine matter disposed of concerned the rates of pay for election workers who will be engaged for the primary election on June 18. Council voted the same rates as paid in the last city election, $7 for inspectors, $5 for assistants. Salary for members of the board of review was set at $9 a day (one dollar more than last year) and an extra half day's pay for any necessary night sessions. Mayor Coon, a member of the board, did not vote on this issue and the motion was made by Councilman Victor Nelson.

Credits Proposed On Social Security For Service In War

Washington, June 6 (AP)—Legislation to give veterans social security credit for World War II service was recommended to the senate today by its finance committee.

Senators were told that this credit, at a flat rate of $160 a month, would be retroactive to the start of the war and extend for three years after effective date of the legislation.

It would enable surviving dependents of veterans killed during the war and those who die within three years to obtain social security benefits. After three years the veterans are expected to have built up sufficient credits.

Both employee and employer costs would be paid by the Federal government. The cost was not estimated.

LONG CONFLICT ENDS IN CHINA

Gen. Marshall Arranges
Truce; Permanent
Peace Sought

Nanking, Friday, June 7 (AP)—The long conflict between the Chinese government and Communists for control of Manchuria is scheduled to end at noon today in a 15-day truce arranged by General Marshall in hope of making a permanent settlement.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek announced that he was issuing orders to his armies "to hold all advances, attack and pursuits" for the 15-day period. Gen. Chou En-Lai, chief Communist negotiator, said his faction concurred but was concerned over the brevity of the truce.

While General Marshall, special envoy to China, jammed the truce agreement through, both Chinese groups took credit for making every effort for peace.

"We concur in the cease-fire arrangement," having in mind that no opportunity for peace should be skipped over," said Chou.

In issuing his orders, Chiang declared: "I am doing this to give the Communist party an opportunity to demonstrate the good faith of their intentions in carrying out the agreement previously signed."

Airplane Crashes In Lake Macatawa; Pilot's Body Found

Grand Rapids, June 6 (AP)—A Grand Rapids pilot died when his plane crashed tonight in Lake Macatawa about 1,000 feet west of the Stanley Easter boat dock.

The body of Lawrence B. Stearn, 29, the pilot, was recovered from the plane wreckage by William Nies, of Holland, who unsuccessfully sought to revive Stearn.

Belief existed that Chandler Norris, of Pittsburgh, Pa., went down with the pilot but no confirmation could be obtained tonight. A search for his body was under way.

Norris had flown the plane, a light model, from Pittsburgh Wednesday.

The plane took off from Grand Rapids tonight and officials of the Holland airport said they saw it over Lake Macatawa shortly before the crash.

The plane did not land at the Vinson served 14 years in the House until President Roosevelt appointed him to the U. S. Circuit court of appeals for the District of Columbia in 1938. Subsequently he was reconversion director.

The President's selection of a man from outside the present court to fill the post of the late Chief Justice Harlan Fiske Stone apparently was dictated in part by tensions which have been reported among some of the eight associate justices.

Sullivan, now assistant secretary of the Navy for air, will get the post of undersecretary to which Mr. Truman originally appointed Edwin W. Pauley, California oil man. The controversy over Pauley's nomination, during which Harold L. Ickes quit as secretary of the interior, led to its withdrawal.

Mr. Truman was asked whether Sullivan is tabbed to become secretary of the Navy eventually. He replied that Secretary Forrestal, who is known to want to step out, will remain as long as the President wants him to—and, he added, he wants Forrestal to stay.

Escanaba will cooperate with Gladstone's Fourth of July role festival but the day will be properly recognized with appropriate celebration here, it has been announced by George Grenholm, city recreation director.

There will be a double-header softball program at the lighted field that night, with the Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting Iron Mountain Riverides. A tug of war between two local service teams on Ludington street also is in the offing, with fire hoses promising a spraying for the defeated team.

A big fireworks display at the yacht harbor will be presented and the official celebration will be concluded with a big street dance in the business district.

A baseball game also is contemplated for the afternoon of July 4, but the participating teams have not yet been designated.

On the morning of the operation the patient was totally blind in the left eye and could not see enough with his right eye to count fingers held 12 inches from his eye.

Two weeks later examination showed "excellent improvement and return of vision in the nasal portion of the field of the left eye." Improvement of eyesight also occurred in the less seriously affected right eye.

Chicago Hotel Tragedy

CHICAGO experienced its most disastrous hotel fire in its history early Wednesday morning when almost sixty lives were lost and more than two hundred persons were injured at the "strictly fireproof" LaSalle.

Cause of the blaze has not been officially determined, except that the fire was first noticed in a dummy elevator on the main lobby floor. The sudden spread of the flames and smoke to three floors of the 22-story building was attributed to the heavy draft, caused when hundreds of guests opened their bedroom doors and windows.

The LaSalle tragedy will likely be followed by the usual investigations and tightening up of fire regulations in hotels and other public buildings in Chicago. Fire department officials announced that the management of the hotel was recently notified about laxity in certain precautions, but explained that none of the points cited in the warning was responsible for the fire.

There has been some complaint that Chicago hotels have been negligent in calling the fire department in the past, choosing instead to put out fires with their own equipment so as to avoid unfavorable publicity. This was not true in the LaSalle fire, however.

"During the wartime and postwar rush of business, hotels in Chicago and other large cities have been cashing in. Service in these busy hostilities is far from what it was before the war, because they enjoy all the patronage they can handle, anyway. Along with poor service it is to be expected that less attention is also paid to fire regulations and other precautions for the public's safety."

Aid to Industry

REPRESENTATIVES of public utilities, attending the recent annual meeting of the Edison Electric Institute, were urged by speakers to encourage the establishment and growth of small industries in their areas by offering business, technical and engineering counsel.

It was pointed out that there would be a resultant growth in residential and commercial communities requiring electric service, and there would always be the possibility that the small industries would grow and become large users.

This is not a new idea, of course. For some years, large utility corporations have maintained promotion departments, which through advertising, personal contacts and other methods endeavor to attract new industries. The recent trend toward decentralization of industry has tended to increase such efforts on the part of utilities, chambers of commerce, states and municipalities.

Several states notably Mississippi and Tennessee, have enacted legislation in recent years, enabling cities to issue bonds to finance factories for lease to private owners. San Antonio, Tex., spends $100,000 yearly in city funds for promotion. Salina, Kan., recently created a department of industrial development supported by a one-half mill industrial levy. Kearny and Patterson, N. J., have city-financed industrial commissions.

What is being done in other communities fully justifies the joint efforts of the City of Escanaba and the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce to attract new industries in the last few years. With the City of Escanaba owning the electric, gas, water and heating utilities, any reasonable investment is made for industrial promotion is quite certain to bring appreciable returns to the city treasury from the resultant increase in utility business.

The Seeds of War

DESPITE the natural suspicion in America of Britain's objectives in foreign affairs, it must be conceded that Winston Churchill's and Prime Minister Attlee's appraisal in parliament of Russia's activities in eastern Europe and the effect of the Russian policy on public sentiment in the United States is strikingly accurate.

Attlee charged that Russia is drawing an iron curtain across its occupation zone in Europe and that as a result the Soviets are chilling their friendship with the English-speaking world.

Soviet-American relationships have declined considerably since the days of the war and, of course, British-Russian relationships have chilled to an even greater degree. In the case of Britain, the conflict is one of territorial influence. Our is simply a case of righteousness for all people, including citizens of small nations.

We recent Russian activities in Poland, the Baltic States, eastern Germany, Czechoslovakia and other areas because we fear that Russia is seeking to dominate the lives of the people in those countries. Britain probably resents Russian activities in those areas for a similar reason, but Britain also resents the fact that the British influence and trade privileges in those areas are threatened by Russia.

Churchill is certainly correct in his contention that the seeds of war are being sown in Soviet-influenced areas of Europe. As long as one nation insists upon dominating another, there is a danger of war. The Russian government is working to that end now.

A Good Appointment

APPOINTMENT by President Truman of Senator Austin, Republican of Vermont, to succeed Edward R. Stettinius Jr. as American representative to the United Nations security council should meet with general approval.

Sensor Austin's views on foreign policy coincide with the spirit of a postwar America, which has abandoned isolationism and has finally recognized the fact that it must use its power and prestige to promote international peace and good will. He long has been a keen student of world relations, and as a lawyer and senator has acquired outstanding ability as a debater, a much-needed qualification if a member is to have any influence on the security council.

The most commendable feature of appointment is that he did not make the appointment as a reward for political service to the Democratic party. In naming a prominent Republican, President Truman will impress upon the other nations the fact that while there may be party differences on domestic issues the United States stands united in its foreign policy.

New Bond Campaign

THE U. S. Treasury has launched a new campaign to spur the sales of federal bonds as a means of soaking up buying power that is a threat to inflation. The idea is based on the fact that if the loose money can be diverted to the federal treasury, there will be less pressure to bid up the cost of living.

Undoubtedly the proposal is a meritorious one and federal bonds still represent the safest investment in the world.

The sad fact, however, is that a considerable portion of the inflationary money that threatens our economic life has come about at government insistence. When the administration cried out for wage increases as high as 25 per cent shortly after V-J day, it resulted in a wave of ruinous strikes that impeded production and opened the gates for a new flood of inflationary money. The result was a sharp increase in living costs that are still mounting.

CEILING ON PAYROLLERS

(New York Herald Tribune)

Senator Byrd's joint economy committee reports some interesting discoveries about the federal government's postwar personnel.

Despite a considerable reduction of wartime workers, the federal payroll for civilian employees still numbers more than three times the prewar peak. In December, 1939, there were 928,836 civilian employees; now there are 2,893,670. The reduction of War and Navy Department personnel by some 750,000 has been in part canceled by an increase of 86,822 in the old-line departments and agencies since V-J Day.

"Perpetuation of excess war personnel in the federal service," the committee report says, "is being made by transferring personnel and functions from war to peacetime agencies." In other words, a place has been found for many of those who lost their wartime jobs and the expected exodus of civil servants from Washington considerably tempered thereby.

The Byrd committee recommends a ceiling on the number of employees the government may have. That may seem an arbitrary way to go about securing a real reduction. But the public is entitled to ask why its government needs more employees in its regular departments than it had during the war, and why it needs more than three times the number it had before the war. Many citizens thought bureaucracy had grown too big then. These figures indicate that the growing process is not halted or even slowed. The ceiling proposed by the committee is 1,650,000 employees, or 175 per cent of the December, 1939, total.

The first strawberries in the London market were five cents each. Likely meaning that the raspberries were plentiful.

The Hon. Helen Gahagan Douglas

Voice, medium soprano, rather shrill in the upper register. The voice is well-placed, but the lady is given to roller-coastering in her more intense moments. This swooping up and down the scale is a fault that is rather prevalent among women speakers, and, in my opinion, it is responsible for the general belief that the microphone is unflattering to women's voices. But, of course, many women do "mike" well, and it is because they keep their voices off the high C's.

Enunciation, distinct and on the lips. But occasionally the Hon. Helen's zeal carries her away, and she races buckety-buckety into near-incoherence. Persons whose words fall all over themselves usually have rather agile minds. They should learn to spare the horses—and the listeners.

Style, Standard American. When Miss Douglas keeps a tight rein on her native exuberance, she speaks forcefully and quite pleasantly. Since she is a talented actress, it is not surprising that she should "read" with expression and charm, and

World Events Analyzed

Washington—As of this writing, President Truman has decided to veto the controversial Case bill. He will veto it not because of the pressure from organized labor but in spite of that pressure.

The President has been annoyed by the tone of statements made by labor leaders, particularly that of Philip Murray of the CIO. They have made it far more difficult, from the point of view of general opinion, to take the action he was inclined from the beginning to take.

In the veto message which is being concocted, the President will cite his own record in the senate. He will point out too that, in his message to Congress recommending drastic emergency legislation, he specifically said he did not seek permanent restrictive legislation. Instead he recommended an exhaustive study by a joint House-Senate committee which would come out with a comprehensive legislative program.

—NOT A "VICIOUS" BILL— Of course, there are men around the President who continue to urge him to sign the bill. They argue that thereby he would show his independence and appeal to a much wider segment of opinion. Their pressure might be such as to persuade the President to change his mind before the deadline of June 12, but it is unlikely.

The Case bill could never be described as a vicious bill. But the senate added certain provisions of doubtful workability, including the cooling-off period, which could apparently be circumvented by unions determined to strike without reference to the mediation process.

Then, facing up to the political music, the President knows that the weight of politics is all on the side of a veto. A message can be a forceful argument with those who are opposing the third-party move.

The third-party debate is a very real continuing one, with much depending on its outcome. Perhaps the strongest opponent is Sidney Hillman, who insists that such a move would serve only to insure the election of a reactionary Republican. He is backed in this by Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace.

By an interesting coincidence, Wallace was speaking in New York on the same night that President Truman went to the nation on the radio in the rail-strike crisis. Wallace was speaking at the tenth anniversary dinner of the American labor party.

—BACKS TWO-PARTY SYSTEM—

In his speech he gave strong support to President Truman. His audience was made up largely of left-wing labor leaders and intellectuals. They have been accused by liberals who deserted the labor party of being under Communist domination. This audience was startled to hear Wallace say:

"I believe in the two-party system. I want the party I belong to—the Democratic party—to be the progressive party. The American labor party cannot, of course, elect delegates to the Democratic conventions. This lessens your influence. Any progressive third party which attempts to operate will find, because of the laws in most states, that it will guarantee a reactionary victory by dividing the votes of progressives."

This was all the more surprising since Wallace himself had become involved in the election campaign of Johannes Steel, defeated American labor party candidate for congress in New York City. Wallace's aides explain his involvement in this way. They say that Steel wrote to him declaring he intended to go into politics and that Wallace wrote a letter approving the step. This was never intended as an endorsement of Steel's candidacy.

In his hotel room after his May 24 speech, Wallace was challenged by some who had heard him. They cited Truman's radio address as evidence that the secretary of commerce would have to desert the Democrats for a third party. But Wallace held his ground. He told them he intended to work for progressivism within the party unless he was forced out by one of two events. One would be a national scandal within the administration. The other would be an apparent determination to go to war with Russia, which would compel Wallace to get out and fight for peace.

Elmer Benson, chairman of PAC's executive committee, is one who is working hardest for a third party. Harold L. Ickes, as head of the independent citizens committee of arts, sciences and professions, has taken a sharply critical line which would seem to lead to third-party action. Wallace and Ickes are, incidentally, rivals from the old new deal days.

Whatever else it may be, the President's message on the Case bill is certain to become a campaign document.

with little affectation. It is always refreshing to listen to an intelligent woman speaker who does not put on the Lady Plush-bottom act.

Pronunciation, generally accurate, and in conformity with Standard American usage, with these minor exceptions: "rather" for rather, her only broad A; "a-gaynst" instead of the Standard American a-geinst; "intristid," instead of interest-ed. Miss Douglas affects the Britishism "milltree" is synthetic, is shown by the fact that on the broadcast checked for this article there were 14 "milltree's" and three American mil-i-tar-ry's. She earns this column's applause, however, for saying "pro-gram," instead of "pro-gram," and for plainly sounding the "m" in government.

Our Changing World

Good Morning!

WEATHER REPORTING—There are two ways to report on weather forecasts. The first and almost universally observed is to be factual about it. The second is to be whimsical. There is a news-drying in the East—we believe, it is published in Washington, D. C.—that makes a specialty of the informal weather report. The forecast for Mondays, for instance, will inform housewives that "today will be fine weather to hang out your washing."

Charles R. Henderson of Escanaba recently presented to Henry Hathaway, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist, some weather forecast reports as printed at the top of page one of the Sault Daily Star, published in Sault Ste. Marie, Canada. Here is the way the Canadians get their weather forecast, together with a translation by Hathaway:

Wee Wet—Light showers. Soupy, Cooler—Cold and fog. Not Very Pleasant—Unsettled weather. Not Too Bad—Fair. Great For Ducks—Heavy rains. Drying—Northwest winds. Not So Nice—Rain and fog. More Better—Generally fair.

JOHNNY OR VAN?—It is reported from Lansing that another phase of the Mackinac Island movie "This Time for Keeps" starring Esther Williams and Johnny Johnson, will be taken this week.

Last winter it was reported that Miss Williams' sparring partner in the Mackinac Island opus would be Van Johnson. Now his name comes out Johnny, and so far as we know there is no Johnny Johnson on our Hollywood role of honor.

Perhaps you may also recall that the movie company stars are not to come to Mackinac until mid-summer, which will be a break for the tourists—and the tourist and resort industry on the island. Last winter the cameramen and some extras and doubles took location and background shots of the snow and such, and this week they are picturing the lilacs and the spring flowers which will provide some of the background for the technicolor scenes.

This business of Van and Johnny bothers us, however, and we know quite a few of the bobby-sox girls who may cancel their Grand hotel reservations this summer unless it is straightened out. For if Johnson is Van they plan to be around. But this Johnny person!

PS—One of the office staff who once lived in Hollywood reports that Johnny Johnson is a singer in the movies, and that he has a nice voice. Esther Williams can't sing but she can swim. There is a method in this seeming cinema madness.

NORTHWOODS ORCHID—The majority of our Upper Peninsula residents think of orchids—if they think of them at all—as a tropical flower worn by gay ladies in New York nightclubs. They do not realize that we have orchids, some very rare, growing right in our own backyards, so to speak. This is not to suggest that you go out and pick your girl friend a bouquet of pink lady slippers (they're one of the more common varieties of northwoods orchids)

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1936

Miss Gladys L. Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil J. Anderson, Lake Shore Road, became the bride of Del Stuart Andrews, 1218 Tenth Avenue south, Friday afternoon at one o'clock at a ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents, by the Rev. Karl J. Hammar.

A daughter was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Felix Miljour of Perkins at the St. Francis hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Steede, 306 Stephenson avenue, are the parents of a daughter, born Friday at St. Francis hospital.

Rev. and Mrs. Knute Knutsen left Friday night for Minneapolis where Rev. Knutsen will officiate at the marriage of his son, Albert, which takes place there today. Authority to purchase a sand sucker for use on Escanaba's beach improvement program was given to City Manager T. F. Kessler last night by the city council.

20 Years Ago—1926

As the result of a tour over Delta county roads here on Wednesday by Gov. A. J. Groesbeck, F. F. Rogers, state highway commissioner, and other officials of the state highway department and following conference between those officials and members of the Delta county board of road commissioners with representatives of the county board of supervisors and the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, at Houghton on Friday, official announcement was made yesterday that the survey for the construction of five miles of concrete west from Escanaba will be started immediately.

Elmer J. Swanson, who has been undersheriff of Delta county since Jan. 1, 1923, yesterday announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff in the September primary.

RARE CALYPSOS—George Grenholm, director of the Escanaba recreation department, and his family went on a picnic trip Memorial Day and over in Schoolcraft county found several plants of the rare species of native orchid—the calypso. This find was made near Seal Choix point, which is near Port Island.

The calypso was definitely identified by Harry Gruber of Escanaba, who has made a study of local wildflowers and has an excellent collection of color photographs of them. Several years ago National Geographic Magazine deemed the discovery of the rare calypso on Washington Island sufficient reason to send a reporter and photographer there to collect material for a piece for publication.

Grenholm reported that the plant grows from a marble-sized bulb in moss in the deep, cool woods. The flower itself is not much larger than a thumb nail, but is beautifully colored. Above the varicolored pouch which distinguishes the orchid there are several magenta-pink petals.

G. L.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q. Is it necessary to join a union if I am reinstated to my former job under Selective Service Training and Service Act of 1940?

A. No. However, if the shop is unionized and the veteran refuses to join, he can be dismissed without cause at the end of a year.

Q. When I reinstate my $10,000 National Service Life Insurance, will I have to keep it all in force or can I reduce the amount of coverage?

A. The insurance may be reduced to not less than $1,000 in multiples of $500.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. When do fogs occur at night?

A. When the air is saturated with vapor during the day. When this is the case, it deposits some of its superabundant moisture in the form of dew or fog as soon as its capacity for holding vapor is lessened by the cold night.

Q. How much weight would be distributed on each wheel of an automobile weighing 4,000 lbs., as it travels 90-miles-per-hour?

A. For a car of that weight equally distributed on the four wheels, with a frontal area of 25 sq. ft., and the centerline of the air resistance 16 inches above the center of gravity, at 90 miles-per-hour, the load on each rear wheel will be approximately 967 lbs., and the load on each front wheel will be approximately 831 lbs.

Q. While pressing a practically new woolen dress I allowed the iron to rest on the material too long, with the result that there was a scorched place. Can scorches be removed from wool?

A. Dampen the scorched area and lay it in the sun, though there is very little that can be done to restore wool, or like material, if the fibers are badly injured. Try brushing the scorched place with fine emery paper. This may help.

hot-house specimens found in the florists shops and the little calypso. Included among the orchids that grow wild in the Upper Peninsula beside calypso are the white, yellow and purple lady's slippers, the calopogons and the arethuseae.

Orchids of tropical countries are air plants. They attach themselves to the bark of trees and send roots into the air, from which they receive their nourishment. Orchids of temperate regions grow from bulbs in the ground.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—It is now possible to give a play-by-play account of what happened inside the White House during the "Lost Weekend."

This columnist has been around Washington a good many years, but the events preceding Harry Truman's labor message to Congress were the most bizarre ever witnessed. They prove that Harry Truman's worst enemy is his own loyalty to friends. Here is what happened:

On Friday morning, just after the rail strike started, Truman held a cabinet meeting. He was hopping mad at A. F. Whitney and Alvanley Johnston, Secretary of Labor. Schwellenbach was equally burned up, but not at the strikers. He was sore at likable John Steelman, the White House labor expert, and John Snyder, the war reconverter, for messing up the negotiations.

At the cabinet meeting, Postmaster General Hannegan wanted Truman to go on the air with an appeal to the public, but no crackdown on labor. Secretary of War Patterson wanted the President to take over the railroads at once, even produced a blueprint for the Army's strike-breaking operations. Secretary Byrnes said he thought a settlement could be reached but not by Steelman, in whom the unions had lost faith.

—ERRING JOHN SNYDER—

At the cabinet meeting also, Secretary of the Treasury Fred Vinson asked how much money separated the railroad workers and the operators—in other words, how much would it take to satisfy labor's unmet demands. Steelman, who had been conducting negotiations for more than a week, said he didn't know. So did Schwellenbach. So did Byrnes. But John Snyder volunteered that they were between 300 and 500 million dollars apart. This very large estimate led Vinson and Byrnes to the conclusion that there was no possibility of negotiated settlement, and they then cast their weight with the Secretary of War in favor of letting the Army run the railroads.

After the cabinet meeting Truman lunched with Snyder and Steelman. They urged him to use force to break the strike, also to go before Congress and ask for new legislation. After lunch, therefore, Truman called a special meeting of certain cabinet members and advisers, including Secretary of State Byrnes, Attorney General Clark, Secretary of the Treasury Vinson, John Steelman, John Snyder, Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach, and the President. Truman informed them he had decided: (1) to go on the air that night, and (2) address Congress the next day. He then outlined the general nature of what he wanted to say—some of it drastic.

At this point, Secretary Vinson, realizing an important break with Roosevelt precedent was imminent, once again asked whether Snyder was sure of his figures regarding the distance between the railroad operators and the brotherhoods. Snyder then sheepishly admitted that only between 25 and 50 million dollars separated the two.

Steelman also confessed that the three important rules changes the union was really insisting on would only cost the railroads 18 million dollars.

—VINSON-BYRNES EXPLOSION—

At this, both Byrnes and Vinson hit the ceiling. They claimed it was fantastic to let the whole country be tied up when both sides were so close to agreement. A settlement, they insisted, was both possible and probable, and it was unwise in the light of this information for the President to take the strong action he contemplated.

John Snyder, however, insisted that it was too late. Word had already gone out to the public that the President would address the nation and talk to Congress. He could not turn back. Truman agreed with Snyder and asked those present to return at 7 o'clock with drafts of the speech he was to deliver at 10 P. M.—a pitifully short time for any chief executive to prepare such a momentous pronouncement.

Shortly after 7:30, the group reconvened at the White House. Secretary Byrnes stayed only a few minutes. Left to meet with union leaders Whitney and Johnston.

Principal speech writer turned out to be slow-moving, good-natured, presidential secretary Bill Hassett, known as a fair editor but terrible speech writer. He was only a second string man on the Roosevelt team.

Snyder showed up for the meeting, feeling no pain. He interrupted the speech-writing from time to time with inane cracks which served no useful purpose.

Several times Vinson and Schwellenbach tried to balance the speech by pointing out that the railroad operators had refused to make concessions. Each time Snyder and Steelman vetoed the proposal. Each time Truman sided with Snyder.

—TWENTY MINUTES TO SPARE—

Schwellenbach and Vinson both opposed Truman's personal denunciation of Whitney and Johnston, but Snyder shouted wildly that the two union leaders were trying to destroy "the Chief," and that they had to be named. Truman agreed.

Finally, the speech was completed only 20 minutes before the President went on the air. At the time he made it, Truman didn't even know what kind of legislation he was going to request of Congress the next day. It was in this confused, uncertain atmosphere that the President of the United States made the most important political decision of his career.

A New York boy told doctors he swallowed 18 marbles, and X-rays proved it. He really plays for keeps!

NOTE DECREASE IN WOOD TICKS

Eldred Says Pests Seem Less Numerous Except In Norway Area

The number of wood ticks in Delta county seems not to have increased since last year, while in Menominee county they are fewer, but in the state game area north of Norway in Dickinson county they are numerous, says forward Eldred, game area manager for the conservation department.

Eldred bases his statement on personal observation and on reports reaching conservation officers. His job requires that he spend most of his working time in the woods. Last year he and other game management men collected wood ticks for study by the conservation department.

Last year Mer mine county in the vicinity of the Menominee river was reported to be the area most heavily infested by wood ticks in the Upper Peninsula. This year he believes they are not so numerous there.

So far this spring Eldred has encountered no ticks in Delta county. He said that it was reported to the conservation office that ticks were found on a small island in the Escanaba river near Groff, and there have been other unofficial reports of ticks along Ford River and the bay shore south of Escanaba. No ticks have been reported found east of Rapid River.

In the Norway game area, where ticks were first observed two years ago, they are now very numerous, Eldred reported.

The wood tick in Michigan is a pest and a nuisance but it is not a carrier of spotted fever. Unless removed within a short time, however, its bite may cause painful swelling and suppuration. Also known as the American dog tick, it will attach and feed on the blood of dogs if the dog has been in an infested area.

Twelve Are Called By Draft But Likely Few Will Be Chosen

The Delta county draft board was ordered by state selective service headquarters yesterday to prepare 12 men for induction this month, the registrants to leave here June 26 for Chicago. Local officials said that they did not yet know how many, if any, men could be found to fill the June order.

Local boards throughout the state have been unable to fill recent induction orders since the revision and extension of the selective service law, and the present muddled state of the draft will probably not be cleared up until final action is taken on pending congressional revisions of the revised act.

URGES TREATING OF FENCE POSTS

Chemical Solution Use Recommended By Forester

An economical method of treating fence posts, bean poles and garden stakes to make them last longer was explained today by Roy E. Skog, Upper Peninsula forester from the Michigan State college extension department.

"This method has been recommended by MSC forestry department specialists," Skog said. "It consists of preparing a chemical solution of either chromated zinc chloride, zinc chloride or copper sulphate in a wood tub or trough. Then simply place freshly-cut saplings into the solution and let them stand in it for about six hours."

Support saplings while they're standing in the solution by leaning them against a tree or the side of a building. Skog also suggests that a few branches be left at the tops of saplings to aid in drawing the chemical solution up the sap stream of the wood.

Best results can be obtained by giving the treatment on bright sunny days when the sap flows the fastest. Hardwood can be treated any time from now until late summer, while pines can be treated any time except during freezing weather.

In making the chemical solution, chromated zinc chloride can be used to best advantage. It costs about twice as much as the other chemicals, but gives maximum protection and does not corrode wire staples as much as copper sulphate does.

One pound of either chemical, dissolved in a half gallon of water, will serve to treat one cubic foot of wood or a sapling four inches at the base and about 30 feet in height.

Zinc chloride and copper sulphate are poisonous and should not be left where children and livestock can get at them, Skog warns.

Ziegler On Tour Says M-35 Paving Will Be Delayed

Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, now on a tour of Upper Peninsula counties, has announced that the paving of about five miles of M-35 in Menominee county, projected for this year, will be delayed because of nation-wide shortages of cement and steel. Other construction work in the state is affected by the shortages, and projects will, for the duration of the emergency, be largely confined to grading.

The state highway commissioner spent Tuesday in Delta county in company with A. A. Anderson, engineer in charge of highway construction for the department in the Upper Peninsula. From here he went to Menominee, and today is in Gogebic county and on inspection of trunkline highways.

At Menominee Ziegler told a committee that about five miles of M-35 from the North Shore golf course north cannot be paved unless the shortage is eased. He said that the project would be kept on the list of 1946 projects and would be constructed this fall if materials are available.

The M-35 route between Escanaba and Menominee along the Green bay shore is shorter than the US-241 route and it is believed that the shore route will get heavy traffic volume once it is paved. For this reason the Menominee committee were unfavorably inclined toward a suggestion by Ziegler that paving might be done now if more concrete and less reinforcing steel were used.

The materials shortage is not expected to delay progress of the US-241 relocation of nearly one mile between Gladstone and Kipling, on which work has been started by C. G. Bridges, Escanaba contractor. The first stage of the work is to construct the grade.

QUERIES FROM VETS

This series of questions and answers comes from the local Veterans Administration, located in the postoffice building. Veterans may obtain detailed information regarding the problems touched upon here or any other problems relating to veterans' affairs from William Butler or Emil Larson at the administration office.

Q.—Can a guaranty of loan be secured for the purchase of business property?

A.—Yes. Q.—May a veteran use a loan guaranty to acquire an interest in a going business?

A.—Yes. The law provides that the funds must be used in "pursuing a gainful occupation." This means the veteran would have to be active in the business.

Q.—May a guaranty be secured to buy an automobile?

A.—Yes. But only if an automobile is necessary and is to be actually used in the conduct of a business or a farming operation.

Q.—When is a certificate of eligibility from the Veterans Administration necessary?

A.—When the veteran is unable to furnish his lender with his honorable discharge, or when his period of service was less than 90 days, or when his service was in the armed services of any government allied with the United States.

Detroit City Planner To Speak At Institute

George F. Emery, director, Detroit City Plan Commission, will be the chairman of the City Village Round Table discussions at the Escanaba Local Planning Institute on Monday and Tuesday, June 10 and 11. Mr. Emery is also chairman of the Local Planning Advisory Committee of the Michigan Planning Commission, and has spoken at a number of planning institutes in the state.

A panel of twelve planning experts, representing state agencies, city planning bodies, universities and colleges, and citizens' groups, will take part in the round table discussions. At the Monday afternoon round table, Prof. Harlow O. Whittemore, chairman, department of landscape architecture, University of Michigan, will speak briefly on program development. Planning laws will be presented at this session by John H. Huss, director of the Michigan Municipal League, Ann Arbor. Martin A. Holland, chief of field service, Michigan Planning Commission, will talk on organization of a city planning commission, and Edward D. Connor, executive director of the Detroit Citizens' Housing and Planning Council, will discuss citizen organization in community planning.

Paul Oppermann, chief, community planning consultant of the Federal Works Agency, Washington, will open the Tuesday morning round table with a talk on physical planning. Dr. A. H. Burrows, professor of economics and sociology, Northern Michigan College of Education, Houghton, is to discuss community social planning. Educational planning will be presented by George D. Gilbert, regional supervisor, Department of Public Instruction, Marquette. E. H. Laird of Birmingham, city planning consultant for Marquette, will speak on the subject of putting planning into action. Other speakers at this session include Robert N. Cross, Bureau of Business Research, University of Michigan, and R. J. Faust, chief, water division, State Health Department. In both sessions of the City-Rural Round Table, the brief talks will be followed by a question and answer period.

The materials shortage is not expected to delay progress of the US-241 relocation of nearly one mile between Gladstone and Kipling, on which work has been started by C. G. Bridges, Escanaba contractor. The first stage of the work is to construct the grade.

Coal Can Be Saved With House Windows

Washington—Those Eyebrows may knit into a darker scowl than ever, when their owner finds out what the sun can do by way of competing with coal.

A modern house with 100 square feet of south-facing window area can soak up in one winter enough heat to save a ton of high-grade anthracite. Irving F. Hand of the U. S. Weather Bureau told his fellow-scientists at the meeting here of the American Meteorological Society. He made his calculations at the Blue Hill Observatory of Harvard University, where he is stationed. Houses farther south can make the coal-pile last a little longer with solar assistance, he added.

It is better to put windows on the south face of your house than on the east, Mr. Hand stated: south windows are much more efficient sun-traps, and east windows are difficult to shade in summer.

Paper Mill Worker Killed At Niagara

Niagara, Wis.—Walter Franz, 29, employed for the last three years in the Niagara mill of Kimberly-Clark, was killed instantly at about 9 last night when a piece of equipment broke, permitting a reel of paper, weighing several thousand pounds, to drop and pin him against the roll of an adjoining paper machine.

The accident, reported at once to the Marinette county coroner, Robert Thompson, occurred as the men were changing reels on a paper machine.

Dr. Francis DeSalvo, who examined Mr. Franz, said he apparently had died instantly.

In World War II. Q.—Does a veteran, who has become eligible for a loan guaranty through separation from service, lose his eligibility by return to active service in the armed forces?

A.—No. If he has become eligible once he remains so, provided he can meet the other requirements of the Act and regulations in regard to the loan.

Advise Against Closing Lower Bay de Noc To Commercial Fishermen

Dr. Eugene R. Roelofs of the Institute for Fisheries Research, has completed a five-year study of sports and game fishing conditions in Little Bay de Noc which reveals that there is little justification for further restricting commercial fishing in that area.

The report prepared by Dr. Roelofs is titled "A review of commercial fishing in Little Bay de Noc, with comments on its relation to sport fishing." The study and report is the result of a recommendation to the Michigan Department of Conservation by local sport and commercial fishermen that a survey be conducted to determine if the number of game fish in the bay were decreasing, and if so what is the cause. This recommendation was made at a hearing held in Gladstone five years ago.

At that time a bill had been introduced in the legislature by Rep. Peter Legg which, if passed, would have halted commercial fishing in all of Little Bay de Noc, rather than the area from Gladstone north. The bill was later withdrawn at the request of all interested parties pending outcome of the fishing survey.

Covers 16 Years
Concluding his report, Dr. Roelofs wrote: "It seems that closing Little Bay de Noc offers no 'sure cure' for sport fishing ills and unquestionably would represent an uneconomical utilization of our fishery resources." Dr. Roelofs report was delayed because he was called into military service.

It is pointed out in the report that most of the sports fishing is done in the upper end of Little Bay de Noc, and that since 1929 commercial fishing from Gladstone north on the bay has been restricted with the exception of the taking of suckers in trap nets from Dec. 15 to April 15. The report is the result of a study of commercial fishing in the bay from 1929 to 1944, inclusive, and a study of the creel census of sport fishing from 1937 to 1945, inclusive.

The area covered in the report is all of Little Bay de Noc, which includes the bay south to a line between Peninsula and Fishery Points.

For the bay as a whole, for the period from 1929 to 1944, commercial fishermen took an average of 700,000 pounds annually. Perch and walleyes, the two principal species sought by anglers, accounted for only 16.8 per cent of the commercial take during the 16-year period, while herring, suckers and smelt have provided the commercial men with 72.1 per cent of their catch. Northern pike, in which most sports fishermen are less interested, accounted for less than one per cent of the total taken by commercial fishermen.

Report On Take
A total of more than 11,000,000 pounds of fish were taken by commercial fishermen during the 16-year period. Of this total 39,611 pounds were lake trout; 976,812 pounds were whitefish; 1,571,921 pounds were herring; 634,618 were walleyes; 1,215,504 were yellow perch; 3,255,282 pounds were suckers; 3,105,660 were smelt; and 98,620 were northern pike. The capture and sale of northern pike became illegal in 1940.

"While it is not the purpose of this report to discuss fully the factors involved in (fish) population increases, decreases and distributions, a few observations will be included," Dr. Roelofs wrote.

"The close agreement between the ups and downs in the two areas suggests that the fish which move into Little Bay de Noc are part of a larger population inhabiting the Green Bay area. Local conditions in Little Bay de Noc undoubtedly determine the relative numbers of fish that move in, and how far they remain in the fishing grounds, and may account for difference in fluctuations of abundance between the two areas. These same conditions may well affect the sport fishing in the upper end of the bay to a greater extent since the upper waters are shallower and therefore subject to relatively greater changes in temperature, water level, and wave action due to heavy winds."

Perch and Walleyes
The report also revealed the percentage of fish taken in Little Bay de Noc compared with Green Bay as a whole. During the 16-year period, 41 per cent of the herring for the whole bay were taken in Little Bay de Noc; 78.9 per cent of the walleyes; 45.3 per cent of the perch; and 28.2 per cent of the suckers.

The creel census records on sports fishing for the upper end of Little Bay de Noc were kept for a period from 1937 through 1945. Included in the figures are special census figures compiled through the cooperation of Conservation Officer Allen Toward of Rapid River; William Nelson and Joe Meltz, boat livey operators at Masonville and Rapid River. A special census form was used and it is believed that at least 85 per cent of the fishermen were contacted.

The figures show clearly that perch and walleyes constitute the bulk of the sportsmen's catch. During the nine years, 87.2 per cent of the total catch consisted of these two species. Individual yearly percentages for the combined species range from 69.4 per cent in 1945 to 98.2 per cent in 1944.

Economic Standpoint
"Inasmuch as during a period of years it is found that 87.2 per cent of the sportsmen's catches consisted of perch and walleyes and that approximately one-half of the perch and three-fourths of the walleyes taken in the Michigan waters of the Green Bay area are taken in Little Bay de Noc, one's first impression might be that the discontinuing of commercial fishing in the lower part of the bay would tremendously increase the number of fish available to the angler in the upper bay," Dr. Roelofs continues.

"The problem in Little Bay de Noc is somewhat different from other previous and current controversies between sport and commercial interests since in this case the two interests are not operating on the same fishing grounds," the report states.

In other words, commercial fishing is restricted to the lower half, while the upper bay provides the best sports fishing. There is no reason to suppose, therefore, that all of the game fish in the lower bay would migrate to the upper bay if commercial fishing were further restricted, it is pointed out.

"While there seems to be a conflict between the sport and commercial interests for the same species of fish, it appears that much greater interest should be shown in the economics of the situation. Even if it were known that due to closing these waters to commercial fishing, sports fishing would improve substantially, it would be unwise economics to prevent the commercial taking of nearly 700,000 pounds of fish annually to permit a possible increase of only a few hundred pounds in the take of perch and walleyes by anglers," Dr. Roelofs believes.

SCHOOLS GET WAR SURPLUS

About $12,000 Worth Of Property Bought For $500

Some $12,000 worth of war surplus property has been purchased to date by the Escanaba public schools, at a cost of about $500, School Superintendent John A. Lemmer said yesterday.

Most of the equipment consists of machines and tools which will be used at the vocational school but a number of cafeteria tables purchased last month were put into use at the senior high school immediately after their arrival.

The Escanaba school system would probably not have secured such a comparatively large amount of surplus property, the superintendent said, but for the fact that it has a vocational school and much of the war material available was suitable for such a use.

The surplus property includes 1 Landis grinder, plain; 1 Landis grinder, centrifugal; 1 Vernier height gage, 1 Rockwell hardness tester, 2 surface plates, 1 Avers radial drill, 1 routing machine, 1 band saw, 11 work benches, 12 stools, 44 assorted wrenches, 3 electric drills, 1 auto jack, 2 electric welders, 1 generator welder, 8 dial indicator gauges, 2 dial gauges, 80 mill cutters, 1 lathe cutter, a supply of mandrels, reamers, milling cutters, lathe cutters, gauges, arbors, drills, micrometers, parallels and acetylene regulators.

Meat Situation Is Bad; Thieves Steal Baby Chickens Now

The local meat situation must be getting worse, if that's possible. Even baby chicks look tempting now.

Mrs. Ruby Casey, 1225 North 21st street, told police yesterday that someone carted off nine two-month-old chicks from her back yard Wednesday night. She had planned to fatten the fowl for her own use.

Young Deer Washed Ashore At Munising

Munising—The body of a year old buck was washed ashore about a quarter mile west of the Beach Inn late Tuesday evening. A growth of horns about two inches long were noted and the body seemed in a fair state, making those who saw it believe it had not been subjected to the elements too long.

The deer was either chased by dogs into the water and became exhausted after a time or it jumped or slipped off the cliffs along the lake shore and couldn't regain ground before it became exhausted and drowned, Judge John A. Vizona, long time member of the Conservation department said Wednesday.

Deer have been known to be washed ashore in years back and local residents will remember a moose being killed when it jumped off the cliffs east of Munising about two years ago. Coast Guardsmen were said to have attempted rescue but the moose drowned before they could reach it.

DELAYS PENSION PLAN—Sault Ste. Marie—Pension plan for 87 city employees of Sault Ste. Marie was put off for further study by the City Commission in regular meeting Monday night.

While commissioners expressed themselves as favorable to a pension plan, they were of the unanimous opinion that the agreement submitted by the retirement board of the Michigan Employers' Retirement System, a state body authorized by legislature in 1945, warranted further examination.

City Manager Henry A. Sherman said he had opportunity to examine preliminary documents but that he did not have time to study closely the final draft which called for commitment by the city commission on payment to the retirement board of $7,422 in the prior service clause of the agreement, and $8,720 annually as a 5 per cent of wage contribution for the maintenance of the retirement plan plus $3 each per employee for administration purposes.

E&LS PROMOTES GEORGE BROWN

Named General Manager
And Superintendent
Of Railway

George W. Brown, superintendent of the Escanaba and Lake Superior railway, was appointed general manager and superintendent by the board of directors at a meeting held recently in Milwaukee. Mr. Brown's appointment became effective June 1. Mr. Brown began his railroad career in the engineering department of the Chicago and North Western railway. He then worked for several years with the Soo Line railway, holding various positions in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota. He came to Escanaba in 1910 to become station agent for the Escanaba and Lake Superior railway. In 1928, he was appointed superintendent to succeed the late August Blomstrom. As general manager, he succeeds the late George N. Harder, who died about a month ago.

McKay Looking For Lumber In Canada

Sault Ste. Marie—Frank D. McKay, Grand Rapids business man and former state treasurer, was in Sault Ste. Marie yesterday enroute to Canada in search of lumber. He and Mrs. McKay were guests at the Park Hotel and in the evening had dinner with a group of Sault friends at the Ojibway. Mr. McKay said his brother's firm, in which he is interested, is in immediate need of lumber for some 200 to 300 housing units contracted for in Grand Rapids. Thus far his search for lumber in Michigan has been unavailing. He hopes to find in Canada a suitable stand of timber and a small sawmill to cut the timbers into lumber for use on the Grand Rapids job. As for politics, McKay said he was satisfied to watch others in the political. "Why I hardly know anyone of the group of Republicans except Brown," he said in reply to a question about the probable winner in the June 18 primary.

SEA SERPENT SEASON NEARS

Vacationists Will Be
"Seeing" Mammoth
Fish Soon

Sea serpent season is just around the corner. Early each summer when the vacation population of Michigan is high and more than the usual number of eyes are scanning lake and stream waters, the conservation department's fish division gets reports of sea serpents, sea monsters and whales. Swimmers from coastal states swear they saw shark fins cutting the water. The division is happy to get the reports, for every report, reduced from fantastic to everyday language, is one more encouraging bit of evidence that sturgeon are making progress in their long comeback from near extermination. June is sturgeon spawning time, and early vacationers sometimes see in shallow waters the big fish that will spend the rest of the season feeding deep on the lake bottoms. The frightening commotion sturgeon make when they beat the water to foam with their rolling, fisheries men explain, is a simple maneuver the big fish have for shaking off parasitic sea lampreys. Sturgeon have been protected 17 years in Michigan, since 1929, but one starting from the egg at that time would still be a mere youth, with three to four years to go before his first spawning and the prospect of 80 or more years of life ahead of him. Prize recent specimen taken was one injured by a boat propeller off the mouth of St. Joseph river in Lake Michigan in 1943. It weighed 310 pounds, measured 7 feet 11 inches. Before their value for steaks and caviar was realized, sturgeon were stacked on beaches like cordwood and burned, because of the damage they did to nets. From 1880 to 1900 Michigan commercial fishermen took a million pounds of sturgeon annually. By 1929 this catch was down to 7,000 pounds. Now only Ontario, among the states bordering the Great Lakes, permits the taking of this old species, which is a carryover from prehistoric times. Among encouraging signs of the slow sturgeon come-back are the numbers taken in commercial fishermen's nets, particularly at the south end of Lake Huron, and the number of young ones taken at dams when game fish are transferred by dipnetting. The few kept in fish hatchery ponds to keep the bottoms clean and for display purposes are changed occasionally, as they grow excessively thin on the pond bottom diet.

Ex-Navy Men May Volunteer Now For Duty During Strike

Great Lakes, Ill. June 4—Procedures whereby reserve officer and enlisted personnel now inactive can volunteer for duty to meet the imminent critical situation confronting the nation because of the pending merchant marine strike were outlined by the Navy today. An order from Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal to all shore stations said personnel can volunteer in person for active duty at any Naval activity, by letter or by wire, giving name and rank or rate, address and qualifications. Particularly needed are men qualified in deck, radio and engineering duties. All who volunteer, the order said, will be lined up for active service when and if needed. In addition, former inactive service personnel qualified for the naval reserve V-6 who desire to enroll and volunteer for this crisis shall be recruited and enrolled in accordance with current instructions in class V-6 naval reserve. Actual enrollments in V-6 shall be made only at recruiting stations or other activities now designated. Naval commandants were directed to compile lists of volunteers available and report daily by dispatch to the Bureau of Naval Personnel in Washington the numbers of such officers and enlisted men. It was further directed that commandants submit by airmail letter daily the numbers, ranks or rates and qualifications, and in the case of officers, names, as of 2000 (8 P.M.) each day. Naval commandants also were requested not to recall or order anyone to active duty unless further directed. Personnel who may be ordered to active duty will be released to inactive duty as soon as practicable after the termination of the strike, the directive said.

ARE IMPROVEDEight More Purebred
Sires Received In County

Eight more pure bred dairy bulls have added to Schoolcraft county dairy herds during the past week, Joseph Heirman, county agent, announces.

All of these animals have high production ancestry and are from dams having butterfat production records of at least 300 pounds, in fact most of the dams of these bulls have production records of at least 400 pounds of butterfat during their last lactation period, says the county agent.

Introduction of these purebred sires is a part of the annual purebred campaign now being carried on in the Upper Peninsula. Since the records show that the average butterfat production per cow in Schoolcraft county is 170 pounds, the local phase of the campaign is more than usually significant, says Mr. Heirman and should do a lot toward increasing the butterfat production to the future generations of cattle in this county.

The farmers who purchased the sires this year are: William Hartman, William Winkel, and Otto Winkel, of Cooks; James Hoholik and Walter Anderson of Thompson; Sam Bosanic and Otto Johnson, of Manistique, Rt. 1; and Fred Peterson, Gulliver.

Additional bulls will be bought throughout the year upon request from farmers. There are several good herds in the Upper Peninsula whose owners will have young bulls for sale in the near future.

Tired Kidneys
Often Bring
Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Don't serve less—is a good thing to keep in mind these days when shortages seem to crop up over night. To be sure, many things are short in supply, but there are so many abundant foods—serve more of them, and save more on them. You will still be feeding your family a balanced menu—and will also keep your budget balanced. Buy at Schuster's—where Every Price is a Low Price Every Day.

AIR CARAVAN TO STOP HERE
Manistique Will Be On Trip Planned For Next Fall

Manistique will be one of the stopping points on the Michigan Aviation Color Cruise over Upper Michigan, in late September and early October in which more than fifty planes are expected to participate under the sponsorship of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics.

Word to that effect was received Thursday morning by Mauritz

Carlson, secretary of the Manistique - Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce in a letter from Wayne J. Sheldon, of Lansing, of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, who will conduct the tour. The letter came in answer to a query by Mr. Carlson concerning a similar air tour when certain towns and cities in the area would be visited on June 24. Mr. Sheldon stated that the June tour was planned on such short notice that only a limited schedule of stops could be drawn up.

Next fall's trip will be on a far more elaborate scale. It has been designated as the "Color Cruise," because the sponsors hope to make it while the hardwood forests are ablaze with color.

Further details have been promised as plans for the tour become more definite.

Pittsburgh Pirates Strike Today Unless Guild Gets An Election

CLUB ACCUSED OF 'STALLING'

Players Divided Over Issue; Few Want To Call Off Game

Pittsburgh, June 6 (AP)—The CIO-Steel City Industrial Union Council, representing 210,000 workers in the Pittsburgh district, tonight voted unanimously to urge strongly upon the Pittsburgh Pirates' management that it allow an NLRB election among the players.

The action was taken after Robert Murphy, labor relations director of the American Baseball Guild, spoke before the council at the invitation of its president, Anthony J. Federoff, regional director of the CIO.

DAMN GOOD TEAMS

Washington, June 6 (AP)—President Truman laughingly denied any plans to seize the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club which has been threatened with a strike.

If he had to take over all the ball players who might go on a strike, the president replied, he would have two damn good teams in St. Louis.

The president, who is from Missouri, joined in the general laughter that followed the question and his reply.

Murphy told the council that "there will be no baseball game tomorrow night at Forbes Field unless the Pirates' management consents to an NLRB or State Labor Relations Board election."

The 60-odd delegates attending the council meeting cheered loudly as Federoff announced the resolution had passed unanimously.

Federoff told Murphy just before the latter left the meeting:

"If you have a strike, you may rest assured we will take appropriate action."

Picket Line Offered
What the nature of that support might be was indicated by a question from one council delegate:

"If you strike tomorrow night, Bob, do you want to give you a picket line?"

The question was seriously asked. Murphy thanked the council for its support but declined to ask for the aid of pickets in the event of a strike tomorrow night, when the Pirates are scheduled to meet the New York Giants.

Murphy made his announcement that there would be a strike tomorrow night unless consent was granted for an NLRB election after President William E. Benswanger of the Pirates called for settlement by "orderly legal" methods of the dispute.

Detroit, June 6 (AP)—Unionization of professional baseball players presents "nearly impossible obstacles" in the opinion of the immortal Tyrus Raymond Cobb.

Those suspension for striking a New York fan brought about a Detroit Tiger player "strike" in 1912.

As professional baseball awaited the outcome of an assertion by Robert Murphy, labor relations director for the American Baseball Guild, that the Pittsburgh Pirates do not appear for tomorrow night's game, they will forfeit it to the Giants, 9 to 0.

President Benswanger said in his statement he was convinced a strike was not in prospect as a result of the disagreement.

He also declared counsel had advised the Guild's petition brought up unusual legal questions, one of them being whether any union or organization could qualify to represent professional ball players under the federal laws.

In Hands of NLRB
Benswanger asserted that so far as the Pirates management is concerned the case is in the hands of the National Labor Relations Board, including the timing of an election.

He set forth in his statement the views of counsel that "there is no reason to short circuit the board, because, under the law, the Guild can have no legal right to change our players' contracts in mid-season."

The Guild representative challenged Benswanger's statement that the club wanted to follow NLRB procedure, saying it "definitely was not true." He said the NLRB has assured him it was willing to work out plans for an election within a week.

Characterizing Benswanger's statement as "intended merely to confuse," Murphy said, on the subject of contracts between the management and players:

"We have made no demands to change contracts. However, its common knowledge the club changes contracts to suit its convenience. If a club can change a contract and not the players, what kind of a contract is it?"

First In History
If the strike comes off tomorrow night, it will be the first in baseball history called by a union.

About eight out of 15 Pirates, who chatted informally with newsmen during batting practice today, said they didn't "believe in striking." Asked about strike plan for tomorrow night, they adopted a "wait-and-see" attitude.

Some of the Pirates refused to discuss the matter. Here's what others said:

"I don't like strikes. I don't think Pittsburgh should be used as a guinea pig to start it off."

"I'm for a strike. We might as well be getting our share. Look how many people were in the stands last night."

"I object to the union coming in and dictating to the ball club like this. I'm for some of the things the union wants, like the minimum salary and elimination of the 10-day rule, but the heck with the rest of the Guild demands."

ball Guild, that the Pittsburgh Pirates would refuse to play their scheduled night game Friday with the New York Giants unless the Pittsburgh club agreed to a collective bargaining election, Cobb declared that "intangible personality traits" in baseball players present the biggest obstacle to "successful unionization in the accepted sense."

Cobb, storm center of a three-day walkout on May 18, 1912, when Detroit players refused to play in protest against his suspension by American League President Ban Johnson, declared here today that "it would be impossible to set a standard of performance in baseball and establish any form of pay scale based on attainment of such a standard."

Tiger Tieup Recalled
"Perhaps a player should have a financial interest from his sale price, but there are many barriers to creation of any just form of salary scale," Cobb said.

The Detroit walkout of 34 years ago came at a time when formation of a players' organization was widespread talk, Cobb said, but no actual unionization was carried through.

Diplomacy of the late Frank Navin, president of the Detroit club, and the firm stand of Johnson, who made Cobb's suspension stick for eight days, brought the "striking" Tigers back into uniform two days after they walked off the field.

Net result of it all was a general $100 fine against each of 18 players who refused to play a scheduled game with the Philadelphia Athletics. Whether the Detroit club itself assumed the fines still is a debatable subject.

The Tigers were losers in one respect, anyway, for a pickup team of Philadelphia sandlot "strikebreakers" was gathered hastily to play as a "Detroit" team and lost the only game they played, 24 to 2, to the A's, getting only four hits and committing nine errors.

And that defeat was charged against the Tigers in the standings.

Announcement of the selection of Alfred S. Thomas, of the University of Michigan, as football and track coach at Ishpeming high school, succeeding C. C. Watson, is the second major change in the high school coaching lineup reported recently. The other, of course, is the selection of Jerry Thompson as football coach at Manistique. Munising also is reported to be planning a change in personnel, and the coaching job at Bessemer is open. Watson, who gained his greatest fame as a basketball coach, will continue to direct the Hematites on the court.

The acquisition of Bill Thorin to head the pitching staff may be all that the Escanaba Cubs need to carve a niche for themselves in the Rainbow league. Not heavy with the stick, the Cubs, nevertheless, plays heads up baseball, are fast and scrappy both in the field and on the bases. The manager is going into amateur boxing promotion and is organizing a boxing club up there now, supported by the American Legion and the Lions club of that community. There is talk of promoting a fight card there July 4. The Escanaba Lions club boxing committee has pledged its cooperation to Munising. Whether the fight card can be produced July 4 depends upon whether amateur fighters of the area care to remain in training now that summer weather has arrived (or has it?).

Hit and Miss—The take at the Iron Mountain Rangers-Niagara Badgers exhibition baseball game Memorial Day was $473. . . . The Iron River-Crystal Falls game the same day collected $375. . . . Niagara is expecting a $300 crowd for its NWM league game Sunday with the Iron Kings. . . . The Escanaba Bears haven't seen that kind of dough for their home games, but the collections have been sufficient to meet operating expenses. . . . Bigger crowds are anticipated as the league season develops.

Tom Bridges, Hal Manders and John Gorsica each worked three innings. Hank Greenberg and Eddie Lake were the only regulars missing from the Tigers lineup.

Two U. M. Baseball Stars Interested In League Offers
Ann Arbor, June 6 (AP)—Pitcher Earl Block and Centerfielder Bob Nussbaumer, two key members of the University of Michigan baseball team, indicated today they are interested in major league offers.

Both have been viewed from time to time by big league scouts and they will wind up their season Saturday when the Wolverines meet Notre Dame. Block, who hurled a shutout two-hitter against Michigan State at East Lansing yesterday, is 25 and would have another season or two of college competition.

He formerly hurled for Oberlin college under Coach George Uhle and is a Marine on the university campus. His home is at Romulus.

Nussbaumer, who tripled at least once in Michigan's last four games, has not only been one of the Wolverines' best batters but also has starred as a fielder. A Chicagoan, he also has played football and is eligible for additional college competition.

Neither player, however, has indicated which major league club may be interested in his services.

Nine Runs In Fifth Sets Bucs Down 13-8

The Dodgers collected 17 hits off four Pirate pitchers and were benefited by seven walks.

Ralph Branca started for the Dodgers but had to be taken out when the Pirates threatened with four runs in their half of the fifth. Hank Behrman, who rescued him, got credit for the win.

Wilmington Club Tough On Tigers
Wilmington, Del., June 6 (AP)—The World Champion Detroit Tigers, who rolled into town anticipating an easy win over the Wilmington team of the Interstate, had a tough time eking out a 1-0 win over the Interstate league team in an exhibition game here tonight.

FOREST FIRE MEET PLANNED

Officials Of 3 States Will Convene At Higgins Lake

Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota—the "lake states"—will be joint hosts to 90 forest fire organization officials from the central, eastern and southern states June 10, 11 and 12 at the Michigan conservation department's Higgins Lake training school. The party is expected to arrive in Escanaba from Blaney on June 13.

Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio; New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia; and Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana and Georgia will be represented. After a three-day inspection of Michigan-developed tools, the forest fire men will go on to Tomahawk, Wisconsin, for three days' demonstration of specialized Wisconsin and Minnesota equipment.

Tools developed especially for fighting Michigan forest fires that will be demonstrated include the big plows, jet wells, sand-slinging trenchers, pumpers, lights for night fighting and the radio network. This is the first of a projected series of conferences at which forest fire men may improve methods in their own states by seeing what may be adapted from the specialized equipment of other states and regions.

Scientists estimate that 1,000,000 tons of ragweed pollen fall in the United States annually.
